I am opposed to gas tax hike. The government keeps adding on more taxes with less and less services or enhancements to ahow for it. Every time I go out, I see wasteful project such as revamping all the roads to make special rules for bicycles or to to redo things that don't need to be done. It seems that none of the government employees these days understand understands how to budget effectively and you know how to efficiently spend and when when it is necessary to spend.

Stop the madness. Learn how to live within the means.
