I am writing to express my opposition to increasing allowances on drone surveillance. There are already cameras everywhere. There is no need for an additional view from the sky, and police already have access to this technology when necessary, including through the overly-vague condition of probable cause. The only additional condition that should be considered is search and rescue operations. All others simply make it harder for police to be held accountable when this technology is misused. This would be a betrayal to the people of Oregon.
