This bill does nothing to address gun crimes. You already know this. It fails to address criminal activity, but it certainly does make it likely that those exercising their rights under a concealed handgun permit may now run afoul of the law by simply being somewhere. The majority of my students fall under the LGBTQ demographic and are fearing for their lives as the current political turns more and more toxic towards them. Well-done, Democrats. By this and other disgusting points in this bill, you are increasing the danger they face by negating their ability to lawfully protect themselves when and where they feel in danger. They are part of your voting demographic, and you are turning your backs on them. The most common thing I heard after 114 passed was, "Had I known what was actually in it, I would never have voted for it." Now they're left to wonder who of you are actually going to stand up for them.
