SB243

As an American Born Citizen and a veteran of the US military I have the right to carry a firearm for my protection and others. A bill won't change what I do, making law abiding citizens felons won't fix the problem. I'll stop evil at whatever means necessary and a bill isn't going to change that. A bill of this nature that prohibits the possession in certain government buildings is laughable. Do you think someone who seeks to do harm to others cares what the sign at the door says?
