I can't imagine the mind-set that thinks this is good. When will our government quit taking and taking, assuming just a little more, they can afford a little more, endlessly. The existing tax money is already so poorly managed and now more? Our family has always lived rurally, and we will be punished for that. I'm in my 70's and still working just to afford life. This will make things harder, which may be the intent of our leaders. Our Founders will be rolling in their graves.
