I submit testimony in strong opposition of this bill. Oregonians have been clear - cost of living in the state is already impacting people's quality of life. Passing a bill that disproportionately affects working families is irresponsible. We are already seeing an exodus of high wage earners, so passing along increases on those folks will only encourage them to keep leaving. The State of Oregon needs to do a better job managing the money that it is being given, not passing more taxes to make up for a lack of accountability.
