BACKGROUND:

In 2022, the Oregon Health Authority (OHA) contracted with the Oregon Health & Science University to develop and implement a comprehensive data collection system for the Mobile Crisis Intervention Services (MICS) program in Oregon. OHA's Oregon Mobile Crisis Intervention Services 2024 Annual Report, documented that in 2024 there were a total of 25,720 MICS dispatches across the state, with 16,414 unique individuals served. OHA also reported that three percent of all 18 and older Oregonians served by MICS in 2024 were current or former military and/or national guard members, but 43 percent of all 18 and older Oregonians served had missing, or unknown information related to their military status.
