I believe "farm use" places like "Packers Farm" should be grandfathered in after years of the same business practices. those who seem affected by them should not be able to knowledgeably move in and try to change statutes because they don't fit their narrative.

As we move forward, there needs to be a desire to farm sparked in the next generations to come. Unless they were raised going to places like Packers Farm, they need the opportunity to experience what the production, selling and excitement of farming is all about. Please do not take this away from our future generations.
