As a life long Oregonian, I love this state for its beauty especially of the mountains and forests but also the farmlands. In the past 70 years many others have discovered this beauty and have moved here. Yes, we do have a shortage of houses. BUT, let us not "throw the baby out with the bathwater" and keep our forests and farmlands. This bill would allow urban development on a great deal of it and turn Oregon into something one might find on the East coast--wall to wall housing and all that goes with it, specifically pollution and cars! No, no, no, this is not what Oregon is about!
