Topic:

To Whom This May Concern:

It is time for House Committee on Agriculture, Land Use, Natural Resources and Water to come to grips with the fact that our forest lands and timber provide more for the human population and the health of the land than for the few who profit from timber sales. Clear cutting is done for the convenience and profit of a small percent of our population. Please listen to those of us--the larger percentage of the population--to oppose this practice. There is so much more to the picture than profit by lumber companies. Look at the research. Do the legwork and please don't succumb to the rich and powerful and their spin on the gravity of clearcutting.

Sincerely,

Todd Weigand
