My family has gathered SO many wonderful memories over the past 40 years from time spent during all four seasons at agritainment farms around western Oregon. We even tried at one point, several years ago, to open our farm up for others to enjoy, but ran into all sorts of roadblocks. It's obvious from the numbers of families who frequent such farms that the desire to have them available remains extremely strong. Please remove the unnecessary "roadblocks" and make it possible for Oregon farmers to more easily hold onto their lands by creating other outlets for generating income! Thank you
