

Submitter:

Nathan Corbett

On Behalf Of:

Committee:

Senate Committee On Education

Measure, Appointment or Topic:

SB1572

This bill's allowance for removal is far to broad to look like anything but enabling us to remove students who annoy someone from the classroom.

The proficiency gates included have also been proven multiple times to worsen outcomes for students across the board.

All of these provisions also adversely affect already vulnerable students more acutely, the same children we specifically need to improve education outcomes for.