Measure, Appointment or Topic: HB4105

Oregon is a leader in reasonable, equitable environmental regulation. I would like this to continue.

Every environmental organization in the state opposes this bill and its far reaching negative effects on habitat restoration, recreational activity, and the economic health of areas which rely on recreation among other things. The likelihood of the reduction of carbon sequestration with the loss of more trees as a result of this bill is especially concerning.

I urge a no vote on this bill.
