I have lookeed at what communities who had data centers put in, and they show pictures of decimation of the landd. If our land is contaminated How can we be healthy. The cancers that now show up in theese communities weere not there before at the rate after the data centers were built. the only winners for these data centers are the rich who dont eat the food produced from these areas. They have their own sources for everything. Our health, our food, our community. NO MORE DATA CENTERS
