Data centers are not sources of jobs or economic benefit to any city. The addition of data centers to any city cause those living around them to endure increased water, electricity, and related utility pricing due to the increase demand passed onto those living there. Further, once the data center is built the entire building is managed by only a few staff and the 'high paying' jobs required can be done remotely most of the time. There is no benefit to Hillsboro to give any corporation worth billions tax cuts when the state is already experiencing a revenue shortfall. Thank you.
