Once again...stealing from the taxpayers is not the way to go. Schools can be funded without our money, and no one wants their money going to indoctrination camps which our public schools have turned into. We pay for kids to learn real things, not how to protest, not to hate Donald Trump, and especially not to hate AMERICA!! As for wildfire suppression...if you would quit bending over to the environmentalists and would actually let loggers manage the forests properly, we wouldn't have nearly the wildfires we have now. You are causing our forests to burn by not maintaining them as they need to be and without maintaining the trees, vegetation is becoming scarce for the wildlife and that is why they are now moving more into local neighborhoods because they have food they can eat in people's yards and fields. So maybe, just maybe pull head out of rear and listen to real people and quit being greedy a-hats. Balance your budget and quit stealing from the taxpayers.
