To whom it may concern - I work hard, always have, since the age of 10. I don't have much from this earnings but what I do have I bought and paid for because of budgeting. When the surplus kicker happens, that was voted for by the Oregon people, comes every blue moon, that is a special "extra". It's a nice boost and to know that us Oregonians collectively earned enough to warrant a kicker, I want it back in my pocket. Cut your expenses and expectations like the rest of us and make your budget fit before taking from my extra earnings.
