Measure, Appointment or Topic: HB4099

Although I am completely in favor of helping our veterans, who have given so much to help secure real freedom for US citizens, unfortunately this bill is redundant in purpose. It is yet another attempt to move money to hide it in yet another "study" which historically have never produced anything. It is supposed to help with mental health issues, but we already have programs for this, it is supposed to help with suicide issues, but we have a few Christian programs which have excellent results for suicidal vets and those with mental health issues and the state refuses to use any of those, but has poor results programs in place already for those. So, there is no need for more "study", they just need to use the programs that actually provide excellent results and really help our vets, who all deserve this help.
