

Submitter: Athena Contreras

On Behalf Of:

Committee: Senate Committee On Education

Measure, Appointment or Topic: HB4079

There are many ways that protections could be in place in the event ICE tries to enter a school building, such as requiring a judicial warrant, not an administrative one, or not allowing them to enter the building at all, as many states have done. Instead, this appears to entertain the idea of allowing ICE to enter and disrupt schools. This bill does not seem protective in the clear ways I would expect from a bill like this.